Today we honor Robert Cupp of Alexandria, Virginia, who fell on this day in 1968. We also honor his mother, Emogene Cupp, who is the oldest surviving Past National President of the American Gold Star Mothers, National (Official).

"My fondest memories of my brother, Cpl Robert W Cupp is how he pitched the baseball in the air in the front yard of our house and caught it hundreds of times. He played baseball on a winning team for several years in the "shortstop" position. My mother has his awards sitting on the mantel in the family room. Also, I took him with me to the skating rink in Alexandria and helped him around the rink a time or two and then he took off skating like a pro. I miss him everyday and wish we could have grown old together with his family that he never had a chance to have."
